

Webinar

Countering an Active Threat Training Program

Save the Date

Tuesday July 28, 2020
12 pm PT/1 pm MT/2pm CT/ 3pm ET

Guest Presenter

Brad Orsini

Senior National Security Advisor Secure Community Network (SCN)

Our goal will be to educate our Community on how to “Commit to Action” if encountering any type of an active threat. The participants will be exposed to national best practices that will provide tangible instructive material that can be utilized at work or in everyday life.

Below is a list of the core objectives that will be presented.

- Know the definition of an Active Threat;
- Know the difference between security and safety;
- Have a better understanding of Active Threat incidents;
- Be able to identify and explain the three modes of action during an active shooter incident: RUN, HIDE, FIGHT;
- Understand how to prepare for an active threat event;
- Know how to respond to law enforcement’s arrival;
- Understand the importance of additional trainings such as “Stop the Bleed” training; and
- Be able to commit to action during an active threat event.

Contact Linda Sussman for more information
sussman@uscj.org

